

7-Day Growth Sprint

A focused, 2-hour working session led by two senior Heavenly partners, followed by deep and dedicated thinking and insight on your business and key challenges as identified in the session.

About us

Heavenly is an independent brand agency, specializing in developing ideas which create better connections between businesses and their audiences to help generate greater relevance and revenue. We specialize in tech, energy, professional services, education, media, healthcare, and finance and work primarily across the US, UK, and Europe through offices in New York, London, and Barcelona.

How we see the world

In crowded categories and choppy markets, the companies that win tell a sharper story, faster. Our 7-Day Growth Sprint gives your founders rapid clarity on what to say, where to say it, and how to turn it into pipeline—without a heavy lift.

About the session

A focused, 2-hour working session led by two senior Heavenly partners. Within 7 days we will deliver 7 assets that give you a single, repeatable story with proof points, a ready-to-ship activation, and enablement basics, packaged in an editable kit including:

1. an agreed positioning,
2. a 7-second narrative,
3. a platform message,
4. a priority channel plan,
5. one activation ready to ship,
6. a 30–90-day run plan,
7. and a proof pack

Who might find this useful

Seed to Series C companies facing one of three inflection points:

- Clarify the offer: If buyers can't tell what you do, we compress value prop, audience, and why-you-win into one repeatable line.
- Express the brand: If stories differ across decks/website/teams, we align one narrative with shared language and 2–3 crisp proof points.
- Activate now: If priorities sprawl and nothing ships, we pick one channel, launch a usable asset, and set a simple success metric.
